ANNUAL REPORT

Chalk Piece

Chalk Piece

01 | Who we are

Chalkpiece is a fast growing Non Profit Organisation which uses design as a tool to identify and solve social problems. Our Primary Motto is to bring design education as an Academic Syllabus in allSchools and Colleges and also spread design awareness to all people, especially among school students. Our main intention is to give design education to enable people to take up the right decision in their careers by applying the design principles.

Vision

To make people aware of the true Potential of design and how it can be applied to solve people's problem!

Mission

The long term goal of the Chalkpiece is to bring in a novel Academic syllabus in schools and colleges

02 | What we do Now

- Bringing design education into schools and colleges as an academic subject through the Design & Discover Program.
- Part of the Free Library Network in South India.
- Trained 12 batches of college students through the UX/UI Social Design Internship.
- Conducts design workshops for school and college students, design institutes, and educators.
- Runs community libraries that offer creative learning opportunities for underprivileged children.

1.COMMUNITY DESIGN LIBRARY

A creative community space where children from diverse backgrounds come together, guided by a design librarian to explore design thinking through hands-on activities and books.

2.DESIGN AND DISCOVER PROGRAM

Sets up design libraries in underprivileged schools with weekly sessions led by design teachers for children aged 6–14, fostering creativity and problem-solving skills.

3.UX/UI DESIGN INTERNSHIP

A structured program that blends design skills with real-world social impact projects, having completed 12 batches so far.

4.DESIGN FOR FUTURE

An intensive 3-day design thinking hackathon that brings together students, mentors, and industry professionals.

History of Chalkpiece Design Library

We have implemented design education as an academic subject in one of our Chalkpiece design library at Donoboso school gumidipoondi. And all other 9 design library have its own design education curriculum and fellows from each library were leading this program .

Our ultimate focus is to bring design as an academic syllabus in government schools and underprivileged community through this Chalkpiece design library. For this big social change to be implemented, we would require support through volunteers and funds to run our current Chalkpiece design library further. every library has been chosen from different demographic location and needs. So impact from these library will set millstone to expand our idea to other schools further. Find our minimum contribution chart to run these libraries further

OUR UPCOMING PLAN
Design and Discover Program

Design is a problem solving tool to solve any problem. In the 21st century till date in many regions of the world still one child is not able to access quality education. But even those who get the basic education are not enough to survive in this current technological world .So we are introducing design thinking tools to understand the problem around them, questioning them and solving social problems. So basically our focus is to build the problem solvers from the schooling. We are willing to train community leaders to understand this better. This fellowship model will be extended in our underprivileged community spaces or schools at our regional through Chalkpiece NGO at Tamil Nadu .

One of the things we teach in design is to think about what the core issues are because the problem will come back again. A set of global goals was developed by the United Nations, in consultation with world leaders, international organisations and the general public, to help combat startling facts like these. Referred to as the sustainable development goals – or SDGs – these 17 goals aim to confront the biggest issues affecting our world today. We aim to address all these issues through design education.

Design Teacher Fellowship

- In a bid to bring design education as a subject in schools and colleges, we have set up more than ten children's libraries in government schools, community organizations and village halls over the last three years, intending to bring thought and community-based education to the students through a social organization (NGO) called Chalkpiece. Through this, we are teaching design education and conducting more than 100 awareness courses to take them to underprivileged students in the facility.

- We have planned creative PROBLEM SOLVING activities for kids Chalkpiece to provide educational upgradation using design thinking. Below are things we have planned to educate,

Design Teacher Fellowship workflow

- A design teacher will be appointed to conduct one-hour design education sessions for each student.
- The teacher will utilize a mentor's guide prepared by Chalkpiece to effectively transfer knowledge to School children.
- A new design book will be introduced from the library on a weekly basis to enhance learning.
- At the end of the year, an end-of-year design expo will showcase the students' work.
- Students will receive certificates upon completing 10 months of design education classes, marking their graduation.

Budget for the Design Teacher Fellowship

This budget plan includes the cost of a minimum 10 volunteers from Chalkpiece to do the R&D work. Fellow Leaders - from Muheem & and Chalkpiece

HOW WE DO THAT ?

We introduce a design fellow to a select student group from a left behind community or school. This design fellow will interact with the children, assess their strengths, weakness, build trust and come up with activities that could help them to work together with their fellow peers and come up with workable solutions for their collective, individual challenges/needs in academic Design education curriculum way

HOW CAN YOU CONTRIBUTE?

- Fund a design fellow's salary for a year.
- Fund the recurring costs for a year. (training material or admin costs)
- Fund any one of the one time costs according to your convenience.
- Pledge a certain amount to the cause each month. It could be as low as ₹100/month.
- Any contribution in the form of cash, time or material is always welcomed.
